VOLUME XLVIII. NUMBER 98.

NEWBERRY, SOUTH CAROLINA, TUESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1910.

TWICE A WEEK, $1.50 A YEAR.

SALE OF LOTS.

Attractive Values Presented in Auction Sale to be Held at Silverstreet.

An auction sale of lots will be conducted at Silverstreet on December 15 by Real Estate Agent Frank R. Hunter. Silverstreet is one of the most progressive of the small towns of Newberry county, and some valuable lots will be disposed of at this sale. Those who are interested in property in this section would do well to keep the date in mind, and to watch the detailed announcement of the values in store, which will be issued by Mr. Hunter.

There has been great progress in this section of the county during the past several years, and property has been steadily advancing, and will continue to advance. In fact, there is scarcely an acre of property in Newberry county which is not a good investment.

The property in the Silverstreet section is all desirable, and these lots which will be sold by Mr. Hunter present some especially attractive values.

Railroad Committee.

At a recent meeting of the chamber of commerce, a resolution was adopted authorizing the president to appoint a special committee of five to get in communication with the promoters of the proposed railroad from Augusta to Spartanburg via Newberry, and to ascertain what would be expected of Newberry in order to secure this road. In accordance with that resolution, President I. H. Hunt has named the following committee: Jas. McIntosh chairman; Clarence T. Sumner, J. H. West, Frank P. DeVore and I. Preston Cannon.

Newberry Defeats Laurens

Newberry college defeated the Laurens eleven on Friday by a score of 30 to 0. The game was fast and snappy, and there were quite a number of excellent plays pulled off.

Bazaar by Philatheas.

The Philatheas of the First Baptist church will have a bazaar in the store occupied by the Wallace Piano company in Main street, on Friday afternoon and night, beginning at 4 o'clock. Oysters and a salad course will be served. The Ladies' Aid society will have charge of the fancy work booth, and the junior Philatheas will conduct the candy booth.

Teachers' Meeting.

A regular meeting of the Teachers' association of the county will be held in the Martin street high school building on next Saturday morning at 11 o'clock. All the teachers of the county are urged to attend. Matters of importance to the profession will be discussed, and an address will be delivered by Supt. Henry Lee Dean.

An Eloquent Address.

There was a good attendance of farmers out to hear Hon. J. B. O'Neill Holloway at the court house last Tuesday. Mr. Holloway is the State organizer of the Farmers' union, and spoke on the great advantages of the cooperation of the tillers of the soil. He dwelt particularly on the matter of education, and showed the great help being given the members of the union in this line. He stressed the point that the union was not so much for the monetary gain of the members but for education along all lines.

He pointed with pride to the good being accomplished by the organization of a comparatively small number of the farmers, and showed how much greater would be the advantages if all the farmers would join the union.

At the conclusion of the address, on motion of Mr. W. O. Tatum, the meeting extended its unanimous thanks to the gifted speaker for the eloquent and timely address.—Orangeburg Sun.

Approaching Marriage.

READY FOR CORN EXPOSITION.

Agricultural Event Begins at Columbia Tuesday.—First Corn Show Held in South.

Columbia, Dec. 4.—The South Atlantic States Corn exposition will open in Columbia on Tuesday and will continue through Friday. This will be the first corn show to be held in the South and will mark an era in the progress of this section. The exposition will be held in Craven Hall. Cheap railroad rates have been granted from all points in Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina. It is expected that several thousand farmers will attend. The exposition will be educational as well as entertaining. The finest collection of corn ever gathered together in the South will be on exhibition. Approximately $10,000 in prizes will be given for the best corn to be exhibited. Quality and not quantity will be considered.

Other Attractions.

In connection with the exposition there will be a corn show participated in by the members of the Boys' Corn clubs. This show will be under the direction of the United States farm demonstration work. During the week, on Wednesday and Thursday, there will be an aviation meet at the State fair grounds. John Philip Sousa and his band will also be here. More than a score of counties will be represented with booths by the Boys' Corn clubs.

Several hundred exhibits have already arrived and are being set up at Craven Hall. It is the purpose of those interested in the exposition to make the corn show to the South just what the National Corn show has been to the West.

Arrangement of Prizes.

Prizes have been arranged for each county in South Carolina, for the Congressional districts in South Carolina, and for the three zones, each in North Carolina and Georgia. Sweepstakes will be offered for the best ten ears of yellow corn, prolific white corn, single ear variety white corn, single ear and bushel lots, from all States. All these exhibits will come together in grand sweepstakes and grand champion sweepstake classes.

The largest prize has been offered for the best ten ears of corn grown in any one of the three States. This is intended to bring out the best corn that can be produced in the South Atlantic States.

Individual Displays.

An important feature of the exposition will be the individual displays, there being a prize offered for the best individual display in each of the three States will receive prizes to the value of $225, and the one making the best display at the exposition will receive an additional prize of $50 in cash, thus rewarding the exhibitor who makes the best display.

In order to make the premium list as large as it is, the South Carolina general assembly last winter enacted a bill providing for $1,000 in cash to be offered as prizes to the exhibitors of South Carolina alone.

Other Contributions.

At the same time $500 was appropriated for the use of the Corn Breeders' association in furthering its cause. Various machinery houses, fertilizer concerns, newspapers, business enterprises and commercial organizations have contributed large prizes. The International Harvester company alone has contributed approximately $600; the John Deere Plough company has made liberal donations. The South Carolina Cotton Seed Crushers' association has also contributed $300 in cash to be used for the best corn exhibits made from South Carolina.

Cooking School.

In connection with the exposition there will be a cooking school to be conducted by the students of Winthrop college. Corn products will be prepared and served.

The legislative commission in charge of the exposition is as follows: A. D. Hudson, president State Corn Breeders' association; E. J. Watson, commissioner of agriculture, commerce and industries; Dr. D. N. Barrow, superintendent extension work at Clemson college; W. R. Perkins, professor of agriculture at Clemson college.

The Superintendents.

The superintendents are: Superintendent of entries, M. J. Miller, Columbia; superintendent of exhibits, A. D. Hudson, Newberry; superintendent of judges, A. G. Smith, Columbia; superintendent of programme, D. N. Barrow, Clemson.

Programme.

The prospectus says: "The program of the South Atlantic Corn exposition of 1910 will include a series of addresses on agricultural topics for each day. These will be by prominent speakers and will be of such a character as to be of special interest to the producing classes. The program will be educational as well as popular and will include addresses by men who are leaders in their line of thought and prominent in the affairs of the nation."

Arrangements will be made for a room for headquarters adjoining the main auditorium of Craven Hall. This will be in charge of Prof. J. N. Harper, Clemson college; Prof. Ira W. Williams, Columbia; A. G. Smith, Columbia, and W. T. Walker, Blackville.

MARY BAKER GLOVER EDDY DEAD

Founder of Christian Science Pays the Last Debt.

Boston, Mass., December 4.—Mrs. Mary Baker Glover Eddy, founder and leader of Christian Science, died last night at her home in Chestnut Hill. "Natural causes" explains the death, according to Dr. George L. West, a district medical examiner, who was summoned a few hours after Mrs. Eddy passed away. After Dr. West added his statement by saying that the more immediate cause was probably pneumonia.

The news of Mrs. Eddy's death was made known simultaneously by Judge Clifford P. Smith, first reader of the church, at the close of the morning service, and by Alfred Farlow, of the Christian Science publication committee, in a statement to the press.

According to Mr. Farlow, Mrs. Eddy passed away at a quarter before 11 last night.

Next Lyceum Attraction.

The next lyceum attraction is the Winifred Townsend Concert company, Friday, December 16, 1910. This company comes splendidly recommended.

Drayton Rutherford Chapter.

The Drayton Rutherford chapter, U. D. C., will meet with Mrs. L. W. Floyd today, Tuesday, at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. W. H. Carwile,

President.

The military manoeuvred. All afternoon the attackers had attacked, and the defenders defended, with conspicuous lack of incident or bravery. Operations were beginning to drag horribly, when the white flag went up, says Answers.

The officer in command of the attackers stared in amazement. "A flag of truce!" he exclaimed. "What do they want?"

The sergeant major endeavored to cover up a smile.

"They say, sir," he reported "that as it's tea time, they'd like to exchange a couple of privates for a can of condensed milk if you can afford it!"

STATEMENT FROM MR. REID.

Magistrate Says Grand Jury Was Misinformed as to His Action in Mose Farrow Case.

Chappells, S. C., Dec. 5, 1910.

Mr. W. H. Shelley, Foreman Grand Jury, Newberry County.

Dear Sir: Upon reading the presentment of the grand jury for the fall term of 1910, as published in the county papers, I was astounded at the statement made upon information received concerning the settlement of the Mose Farrow case.

Now the facts in the case are as follows: Some time during September, 1910, one Lee Spearman, came to my office and swore out a warrant against one Mose Farrow, charging him with being drunk and disturbing the peace of religious service at Little River church in August, 1910. The warrant was placed in hands of Special Constable J. W. Darnell, for execution, the regular constable being absent at the time. Before the day set for trial of the case Lee Spearman, the prosecutor, withdrew the warrant, stating that the case had been settled out of court and among themselves. I had nothing whatever to do with the settlement, knowing nothing of it until request was made to withdraw warrant, nor did I receive one cent in pay either directly or indirectly.

Your reliable informer has misrepresented the case entirely either through ignorance or with the malicious intent of reflecting on me, rather than a desire to see justice done. It is to be regretted that any person, no matter how unfriendly should be the feeling existing, would willfully make a charge of so grave a nature until they were positive of the truth in the case.

I feel that a great injustice has been done me and in further proof of the case above referred to I will submit to the solicitor certain affidavits of reputable persons who were present at the settlement of case outside of my court, who testify that I was not connected in any way with settlement of same.

Yours respectfully,

W. R. Reid.

A VAST PAGEANT OF EMPIRE.

Plans for the Crowning of King George Next June.

It is probable that London will scarcely be able to accommodate all the visitors who will crowd into this city next summer, for there has been arranged a round of festivities in connection with the coronation of King George and Queen Mary that will draw people from all the ends of the earth.

Although nothing official regarding the exact date of the coronation has been announced it is generally accepted that it will take place in the week commencing June 18, probably on Wednesday, June 21. Already the arrangements are well in hand. It is to be made a vast pageant of empire in which all the overseas dominions will take part.

Each will be represented by a contingent of troops and the procession which will accompany their majesties from Buckingham palace to Westminster and the forces that guard the line of route will be thoroughly typical of the might and strength of the empire.

The word has gone forth that nothing must be wanting to make the event worthy of the empire. Socially the last fortnight in June and the early days of July will be a period of unexampled gaiety.

First and foremost will be the festival of empire at the Crystal Palace, in which no fewer than 20,000 persons drawn from all parts of the empire and from all ranks of society will take part. The pageant which will be seen at the Crystal palace will be almost as brilliant a spectacle as the coronation itself.

Then there will be the great imperial exhibition at the White City. Every country in the empire will be represented. There will be a hundred buildings devoted to an exhibition of their arts and industries and the home life of their people. There are committees engaged now in distant lands selecting inhabitants typical of the various races.

In addition to gold miners, backwoodsman and other pioneers of the Herald and News Contest Arousing Much Interest

Several Nominations of Popular Young Ladies Have Been Received, and the Race Has Started in Earnest.

CONTEST ONE WEEK OLD.

But the Bird is on "The Wing," and the Contestants Have Started to Work in Earnest.

Although The Herald and News contest is young yet, the contestants who have been nominated, have started to work, and some of them deserve much credit for their good work done already. Don't delay sending in your nominations early. Nominate yourself or your friends and give them a good start.

Save all your weekly ballots and give them to someone who needs them.

The necessary material, subscription blanks and receipt-books will be supplied the contestants this week. The Herald and News regrets being so delayed in getting these printed.

The handsome piano has arrived and will be on display at H. B. Wells office in Friend street.

Everybody is invited to call and see this pretty instrument and learn the real value of the prizes the contestants are working for.

The Second Prize.

A ladies handsome gold watch has been selected as second prize, to be awarded to the contestant securing the second highest number of votes at the close of the race.

But contestants don't begin to think of the time of close of the contest. We are just starting now, so concentrate your mind on "winning" and work to that end.

Mrs. Edna Morris, the efficient contest manager, has full charge of the subscription department, and is at your service. If there is anything you do not understand about this enterprise, call or write her, she will be glad to give you any information or assistance possible.

empire there will be aborigines from Australia, Maoris from New Zealand, Red Indians from the Far West, the semi-civilized tribes from the Fiji Islands, colored people from the Matabele and Bechuanaland, Eskimos from the frozen north and Chinamen from the Malay Peninsula. The homes and habits of these people with their work will be shown.

The United Kingdom too will take its part. The resources and industries of England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales will be in evidence. In some of the many buildings there will be replicas of noble British mansions, while the grounds will contain representations of some of the beauty spots of the United Kingdom.

Earl's court is also to reopen its doors with an attraction which is to make London open its eyes with wonder. About this time also there will be the horse show at Olympia. Beginning with the Ascot races on June 14, there will be an uninterrupted round of festivities in and around London lasting for many weeks.

Record crowds of visitors are expected. Already scores of rooms have been engaged at the big hotels and hundreds of passages have been booked on the great steamship lines from all parts of the world. The invasion of Americans, which is growing in volume year by year, will exceed anything yet seen, says a manager of one of the leading shipping lines. The manager of one of the chief tourist agencies says: "London will next year be the capital, not of the British empire only, but of the world. From the universal inquiries we are receiving I am convinced that there will be such a crowd as even London has never seen before."

Although London was never so well supplied with hotels as at present, extensive alterations are being made in a number of these establishments to meet the demand for accommodation. One big hotel in the Strand has just added two floors to its already lofty height while many of the smaller hotels are hastening to absorb as much of the property in their neighborhood as they can.

Contestant be diplomatic, send in your name early. Then let your friends know you want that piano and they will help you. Write to every body you know, and solicit their subscription.

Organize your forces and helpers into squads and get them started to work in your interest early. A lot can be accomplished by getting your friends to help you.

Don't be a receptive candidate, but work every part of this country, and work every minute of your time you can.

Send in your subscriptions every week promptly, with all the weekly ballots you can get. The votes will be published on Friday of each week. Thereby giving each contestant ample time in which to turn in their work for the week. Get busy, busy; so you can turn in a large number of votes for Friday's issue. Just a few more days left for this week, so get a hustle on yourself now, and see who can be ahead first.

The route of the coronation procession has not yet been decided upon, but nevertheless wholesale booking of seats to view it are being made. It has already been arranged to erect a great stand on a piece of unoccupied land in the Strand capable of accommodating and catering for no fewer than 10,000 persons and other big schemes of a like kind are in contemplation.

The people who are booking seats thus early are not all residents of this country. From all quarters of the globe inquiries are arriving asking for the best positions. Before the end of the year it is probable that 100,000 places will have been engaged. A director of a leading booking agency told a reporter:

"This morning we had a communication from Java requesting that a score of seats be reserved for coronation day for a party coming over from that island."

"Another letter from Burma asks for the exact date of the coronation ceremony and what are the best seats obtainable."

"We have also got orders for seats from Calcutta and other towns in India. The greatest number of inquiries, however, come from Americans and it is probable that an unprecedented invasion of people from the United States will be seen here next June."

The coronation will bring to this country royal personages from the courts of Europe, although no reigning monarch ever attends a coronation. In the thousands of invitations which will be issued to less exalted guests the mayors of all the principal cities of the empire will be included.

Blow to Pride.

In the dining room of a hotel in Nice on a huge placard posted over the mantelpiece you read the following:

"Our English visitors are kindly requested to address the waiters and servants in English, as their French is not generally understood."—Tit-Bits.
